About Us

IRMC Physician Group Urology specializes in the treatment of disorders related to the urinary tract and male reproductive system. Urologists are physicians with specialized training in the diagnosis, treatment, and surgery of these body functions.

Urology concerns are not just uncomfortable, but highly personal. They can affect your day-to-day activities and impact your overall health and well-being. Our staff is highly trained and experienced in treating urinary tract diseases, male reproductive disorders, and cancer.

At IRMC Physician Group, our urologists are dedicated to caring for your private health issues with skill and compassion. Regardless of your urological need, you do not have to be nervous about getting help.

Conditions Treated

BLADDER CANCER

This type of cancer most often begins in the cells that line the inside of the bladder. The most common warning sign is blood in the urine. Symptoms include pain during urination and frequent urination.

VOIDING DISORDER

Voiding Disorder refers to a condition where there is poor coordination between the bladder muscle and the urethra. This results in urinary urgency, involuntary bladder evacuation, and abdominal straining during urination

OVERACTIVE BLADDER

Overactive Bladder is a condition that causes a sudden urge to urinate. This may lead to the involuntary loss of urine, or incontinence.
